THE COMMISSIONS

For Officers of the Second Regiment Have Been Issued

AND THE RELATIVE STANDING

OF THE OFFICERS IN RANK ANNOUNCED IN GENERAL ORDERS BY GOVERNOR ATKINSON. THREE WHEELING MEN FIGURE IN THE LIST—THE MEN HOPING THEY WILL SEE SERVICE BEFORE THE WAR ENDS. NEWS LETTERS FROM THE CAMPS.

On Saturday, Governor Atkinson issued general orders No. 7, in which he formally appoints the officers of the Second regiment of volunteers now encamped near Charleston at "Camp Atkinson." The relative rank of the officers is in the order in which their names are here printed, as follows: Colonel—D. T. E. Casteel. Lieutenant-Colonel—O'Brien Moore. Major—Howard Atkinson. Major—Charles D. Elliott. Captains—Samuel B. Avis, William H. Howard, Emory D. Smith, Richard H. D. Willis, Thomas E. Thomas, Jackson Arnold, William R. Standiford, Alex. D. Hutson, Melvin G. Sperry, Julian E. Ganjot, Daniel U. O'Brien, H. C. Getzendanner.

First Lieutenants—Robert L. Archer, Joseph C. Gluck, Henry Fry, Lewis C. Somerville, Charles Dryden, Clifton E. Morris, Robert B. Smith, George E. Kunst, A. Frank Millan, Claude R. Silverwood, Robert H. Ramsey, Kemble White. Second Lieutenants—John A. Bell, Chas. T. Beale, James R. Dolin, John R. P. Foster, George S. Wallace, Kirk C. Smith, James R. Stathers, Edward G. Pierson, John H. Clifford, Douglas E. Hughes, Charles F. Sentz, John Henshaw. Major and Surgeon—William D. Henshaw.

First Lieutenant and assistant surgeon—Zadwick T. Kalbaugh. First Lieutenant and assistant surgeon—William T. Dally. Chaplain—Albert S. Kelly.

The boys of the Second fear that the war will end before they are given an opportunity to show the Spaniards the stuff of which they are made. The news of flattering prospects for peace was received at "Camp Atkinson" with anything but the satisfaction with which the intelligence was received elsewhere.

WHEELING COMPANY

Of Immunes on Top at Camp Cobb. Ben Honecker Writes.

Private Ben Honecker writes the following interesting letter from Camp Cobb, Fredericksburg, Va., and its perusal will show that Captain Franzheim's boys are maintaining their reputation as the banner company. "Billy" Cleman's song, "The Stars and Stripes That I Love," the company song, is being used to make the welkin ring. The letter is as follows:

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., July 29. Thursday morning the second battalion, of which Company G is a part, took a practice march of thirteen miles in the country. We marched in light marching order carrying haversack and canteen. During the march the boys sang, "America," "Hang Butcher Weyler to a Sour Apple Tree," and the favorite of the regiment, "The Stars and Stripes That I Love." Part of the time Company G had the head of the column, but we were a little too speedy for the other companies and had to halt several times to let them catch up. Though men were falling from the intense heat in the other companies, not a man from Company G was prostrated. This goes to show that Company G is the healthiest company in the regiment. During the march Corporal Wolvington was continually falling out of ranks and picking blackberries. John Katser cheered the boys on by his beautiful singing and his jokes. Private Cook found a relic in the shape of a battered minnie ball which was fired during the battle of Fredericksburg. The members of Company G who were on out post duty Thursday, honestly declare they saw a regiment of Confederate soldiers on dress parade during the night. The boys of Company G have a good joke on one of the members. He was discovered writing a letter and had started it thus, "My dear little bunch of sweetness. When this cruel war is over our hearts shall beat as one." He meant it.

Private Ed Shroyer has been appointed cook, with P. H. Hendricks as assistant. The boys in Company G are now getting fine grub.

The Y. M. C. A. has kindly presented the entire regiment with pocket toasters; not a better gift could have been given the boys. B. H.

WHEELING MAN ROBBED.

An Atlantic City Hotel Night Clerk Makes a Neat Haul.

The following special from Atlantic City tells the story of how the night clerk of a hotel there victimized a number of guests, including a Wheeling man:

The two score or more of guests of the Willard, a small hotel at the corner of Kentucky and Pacific avenues, awoke this morning to find themselves poorer by several hundred dollars than they were when they retired last night. The money, together with a goodly quantity of valuable jewelry, which had been placed in the hotel safe for security during the night, had passed into the hands of the night clerk, Charles H. Jeens, and that enterprising young man had disappeared.

Before leaving he destroyed the combination of the safe and carefully looked all of the outer doors of the hotel, the keys of which he retained, thus practically imprisoning the inmates.

When Messrs. Harris and Moore, the proprietors of the hotel, succeeded late this morning in getting the safe open and discovered how it had been looted, Clerk Jeens had secured a good start over any possible pursuit. The management has guaranteed to make good all losses to the guests amounting to $500.

Young Jeens came to the hotel some six weeks ago and was somewhat lionized by the management and the guests, owing to the fact that he was armed with recommendations from Captain John D. Hart, the noted life buiter, with whom he claimed to have served. He also claimed to have been on one of the Bermuda's many surreptitious trips to Cuba prior to the declaration of war. He also claimed to be a son of E. M. Jeens, president of the Laramie Insurance Company, of Liverpool, England, and a member of a wealthy family.

For several days past he talked of making an early return to his English home, and in order to secure the where-withal for the trip he impressed upon the guests the necessity of depositing their valuables in the safe over night if they would guard against possible robbery.

They took his advice much to their present sorrow. J. H. Duff, a New York visitor, is minus $100; M. J. Daubman, of Philadelphia, loses $115 and considerable jewelry; D. J. Clatter, of Washington, loses $97; W. L. Blumberg, of Wheeling, is out $35, and various other guests lose smaller amounts. The hotel loss is $300.

It is believed that the fugitive clerk made for New York, and probably sailed for England on the Campania at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The New York police have been notified and a reward offered for his capture.

MANY EXCURSIONS

Ran to and from Wheeling Yesterday. Eight hundred Cleveland People Arrived here in the Heat of the Main-Moart Society's Excursion.

Yesterday was a Sunday of excursions in this city. The Mozart Singing Society took a large excursion to Cleveland on the Wheeling & Lake Erie road; the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling had a remarkably large excursion from Cleveland to Wheeling; the Baltimore & Ohio road sent out a large crowd to Oakland and Deer Park, and in addition to these there were several smaller excursions on rail and river.

The excursion brought in from Cleveland and way points by the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling road was one of the largest Sunday crowds ever coming to this city. Two sections were run, of seven cars each, and it was stated that between 800 and 900 people came in on the two trains. It was very unfortunate that just as the trains arrived at Bridgeport, a heavy rain began and continued with short intermissions throughout the afternoon, making the stay of the visitors anything but enjoyable. The trains left Bridgeport on the return trip at 7:30 and 8 o'clock, respectively.

The Wheeling & Lake Erie took out an excursion of several hundred people Sunday morning for Cleveland, under the auspices of the Mozart Singing Society, accompanied by the Opera House band. At Clevel and the Wheeling people were met by one of the Cleveland singing societies, and the day was spent at the parks and at a summer garden, where the band gave a concert. The excursionists were due to reach home early this morning on the return trip.

The Baltimore & Ohio took out a Sunday excursion to Oakland and Deer Park in the Allegheny mountains, and it was taken advantage of by a large crowd. The excursionists arrived early this morning and were enthusiastic in telling of the delightful trip they had taken through scenic West Virginia.

ON BLOODY FIELDS

Our Armies Bringing Spain to Punishment for her Savagery.

The feat of preparing a volunteer army of 300,000 men for actual service in foreign fields within the short period of two months is unprecedented; but more remarkable is the fact that this hasty equipment, drill and transportation has been attended by no reverses, and without sacrifice to the health or effectiveness of the troops, whose esprit and courage have shown no relaxation. America is blessed beyond all other nations in the marked intelligence, activity, bravery and resolution of her soldiery of both army and navy, and the history which we have made, and are making, is matter for infinite pride to every loyal heart. This splendid spirit, great as it is auspicious of the country's destiny, is being mightily encouraged by "Our Nation in War," which the Intelligence is now distributing among its readers upon terms explained in another column. This charming publication is a portfolio published in parts, sixteen pages each, 11x13 1/2 inches in size, that magnificently illustrates the most famous battles in the life of our country since 1775. The paintings from which these reproductions are made cost millions of dollars, while the war with Spain is pictured by photographs and original drawings made by artists at the front.

TURNVEREIN'S FIELD DAY

Next Thursday will Attract Many Out-of-Town Visitors.

The Wheeling Turnverein intends to celebrate its forty-fifth anniversary next Thursday in a manner befitting the occasion. The anniversary celebration consists of flag raising exercises at Turner hall, North Market street, a street parade, and picnic and athletic spots at the state fair grounds. Bellaire and Steubenville Turners will join in the celebration.

The flag raising will occur at the hall at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. The flag selected is a fine one, and the ceremonies will include patriotic addresses by Dr. C. F. Ulrich and other prominent speakers. Following these exercises, the Wheeling, Bellaire and Steubenville turners, headed by Meister's band, will parade over the principal streets to the fair grounds.

A splendid programme of sports will be carried out in the afternoon. The feature will be the basket ball game between the Wheeling and Steubenville Turners for the championship of the Ohio valley. These teams played a tie game last year, and it will be for blood next Thursday. The Wheeling boys are practicing nightly, and a large delegation of rooters are coming from Steubenville to cheer on the Ohio boys.

Dancing will be indulged in from 4 to 11 o'clock, and at night the grounds will be brilliantly illuminated. The Turners have been unfortunate in getting rainy days in former years, and with good weather on Thursday the picnic promises to be a great success in every respect.

ST JOSEPH'S PICNIC

To be Held this Month on the State Fair Grounds.

One of the largest church picnics this year will be that to be given Thursday, August 25, at the state fair grounds, by the congregation of St. Joseph's Cathedral. The date is not yet definitely settled, but August 25, which was proposed at the meeting yesterday afternoon of the general committee of the parish, was decided on, if arrangements can be made with the fair association.

The initiatory steps were taken two weeks ago, resulting in the general committee's meeting, in the Cathedral basement, yesterday afternoon. Mr. Thomas J. Duffy, who presided, was made permanent chairman, and Jacob J. Hillenbrand, temporary secretary, was succeeded by M. J. O'Neill, permanent secretary. There was a large number of ladies and gentlemen present, and great enthusiasm was shown in the project. It is some years since the Cathedral has given a picnic.

Committees on music, printing, amusements, etc., were selected yesterday, and adjournment was made until to-morrow evening.

FOR LABOR DAY.

The Trades Assembly Committee Met Sunday.

A QUESTION OF "FREE DRINKS."

FOR THE MUSICIANS THAT OCCUPIED MUCH OF THE COMMITTEE'S TIME—IT SEEMED TO BE TOO BIG A THING TO SETTLE AT ONE SESSION—LABOR DAY PROCLAMATION TO BE ISSUED. AMUSEMENT COMMITTEE REPORTS GOOD ATTRACTIONS.

The general Labor Day committee of the trades assembly held a lengthy session yesterday afternoon, perfecting arrangements for the Labor Day picnic, August 27. President Riley, Secretary Salisbury, and nearly all the committee were present. The chief discussion was in relation to giving free beer to the musicians at the picnic, and after considerable voting on the motions and amendments the question was undecided and is to be taken up next Sunday.

One of the motions carried with it was that no free beer be given the musicians or other attaches, and it was lost. Then a motion to give free beer tickets to the musicians and other employees of the assembly on that day met with a similar fate. An amendment giving the five tickets to the musicians alone, was looked upon by some members as discriminating, and it went to the wall. There was a disposition to leave the question of free refreshments to all employees to be decided on by the chairman of the music and dancing committees, together with the chairman of the bar committee. Delegate Tighe, chairman of the latter, threatened to resign if such unpleasant duties were imposed upon him.

Oscar Howard was granted the privilege of printing the Labor Day programme, at his bid of $10.

Secretary Salisbury reported that Mayor Butts would issue a Labor Day proclamation.

The committee decided to hire four policemen, to be stationed at the grand stand, dancing pavilion, and at the two bars.

An application to run slot machines at the picnic was not received favorably.

Purchasers of grand stand tickets will receive a number with each ticket, and the lucky numbers will win prizes yet to be selected by a sub-committee.

The amusement committee reported in favor of having horse, bicycle and foot racing, and a ball game, but nothing was done toward the "dicker" with the Wheeling Jockey Club for one or more horse running races.

The offer of Manager Wright, of the Wheeling Railway Company, for the trolley gunboat "Dewey," was received and action will be taken later.

EDWARD W. SCHAFER DEAD.

The End Came Somewhat Unexpectedly on Sunday Afternoon.

Yesterday afternoon at 1:15 o'clock, at his home on South Chapline street, occurred the death somewhat unexpectedly of Mr. Edward W. Schaffer, senior member of the well known wholesale liquor firm, the Schaffer-Driehorst Company, of Main street. For several years Mr. Schaffer has not been in the enjoyment of good health. His lungs were attacked and the inroads of the dread consumption have been steady, and finally caused his death yesterday afternoon. Although it was known that the patient was very ill, it was not believed that death would occur so soon.

Mr. Schaffer was a prominent figure in the commercial life of Wheeling, and the news of his demise will be received with sorrow by many friends in this section of the country. Before entering the wholesale liquor business several years ago, he was connected with his brother-in-law, Mr. George Bremer, in the wholesale confectionery business. The deceased was a son of Ferdinand Schaffer, deceased, who was also well known in business circles in this city. He married Miss Anna Bremer several years ago, and there have been four children, Carrie Edna, Henry and William. He was a member of the St. John's German Lutheran church; he was also connected with the Arion Society, and was a member of several beneficial orders.
